

INDIGENOUS DESIGN CADETSHIP

12-Month Part-Time Opportunity

Create. Design. Share Culture. Build Your Future.

We are offering a 12-Month Indigenous Design Cadetship for a young Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who is passionate about creativity and wants to build a career in design.

Work alongside our creative team to develop Indigenous-inspired artwork and visual concepts for early learning products that celebrate culture, storytelling and connection to Country.

What You'll Do

- Develop original Indigenous-inspired artwork and visual concepts
- Explore storytelling, symbolism, pattern and colour
- Contribute authentic cultural perspectives to product designs
- Learn digital design tools and creative processes
- Participate in workshops, mentoring and design reviews
- Help build a new range of culturally inspired early learning products

What You'll Gain

- Real-world design experience
- A professional portfolio of applied design work
- Confidence expressing culture through contemporary design
- Mentoring from experienced designers
- Industry experience and professional networks
- Potential pathway to full-time employment

Who Should Apply?

We're looking for a young Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who:

- Loves art, design or creative expression
- Wants to build a long-term creative career
- Is motivated, curious and proud of their culture

Formal qualifications are not essential – creativity, passion and willingness to learn matter most.
